Health hazard: Flytipping on the Great North Road.

Fly tipping eyesore close to homes

Residents along the southern end of the Great North Road in East Finchley have had to endure the eyesore of huge piles of rubbish dumped by the recycling bins outside the Linksvie apartments.

Tim Fox, who lives in Noblefield Heights, said such scenes were a weekly occurrence as people have broken open the recycling bins and used them and the space around them as an area to fly tip.

"Despite me reporting this to the council earlier in the year, no measures have been taken either to prevent rubbish being dumped in this area, or to ensure that it is cleared in a timely fashion," said Tim.

"This scene is outside a large block of flats and must surely be regarded as a health hazard to the residents who occupy it. My children have to walk past the rubbish to school every day."

Continuing problem

Tim's last correspondence with Haringey Council has met with a response. A spokeswoman for contractors Veolia Haringey claimed that collectors cleared rubbish dumped there on a daily basis. She added that the Council had been asked to relocate the bins to a more suitable location that would not attract fly tippers.

However, since then Tim has been keeping an eye on the situation and says there are many days when the rubbish is not cleared and allowed to pile up. He said: "It is surely possible and incredibly simple to put up signs warning that fly tippers will be prosecuted or even to install a CCTV camera that might capture the number plates of those who stop to dump their rubbish."

Odd one out

The Muswell Hill and Fortis Green Association is running an Odd One Out competition for all children aged 12 and under during the 2017 summer holidays. The idea is to find one strange object in a Muswell Hill or Fortis Green shop window which they normally do not sell, for example a spanner in a sweet shop or an Oxo cube in a bookshop.

The participating shops will be given a dedicated number, which will be listed on the entry form. Shops will display an Odd One Out sign in their window for the duration of the competition from 24 July to 31 August.

Forms can be downloaded from the association's website www.mhfga.org, or found in Muswell Hill Library and will be distributed via local primary schools who have agreed to participate. The winner will be the entrant / entrants who have correctly identified all of the "odd" objects. The results will be announced in September and the prize is cinema tickets donated by the Everyman.
