

YOUNG ARCHER

Class action: The students of all seven years at the Archer Academy line up on the school's hard courts off Eagans Close.

Global outlook

Martin Primary School has just been re-accredited with an International Schools Award by the British Council in recognition of its exceptional work in international education.

Its projects include a link with Tryamboli Vidyalaya School in India, establishing a team of Young Global Ambassadors, teaching sustainable development goals and helping to lead the Destination East Finchley project, which celebrates migration from around the world.

All together now

The Archer Academy celebrated an historic moment in September when it became a full school for the first time since it opened its doors four years ago. The last vacant year group was filled and all 750 students gathered together to mark the occasion with a special assembly and a group photo on one of their playing courts.

McDonald's family fun day and protest

Visitors to Cherry Tree Wood on Wednesday 23 August saw the park being used for a Family and Friends Fun Day by McDonald's. The event was for their employees, although some locals did manage to get a free McFlurry or a drink, along with other things on offer on the stalls.

Separately 10 days later, the McDonald's headquarters building next to the tube station in East Finchley was the scene of a protest by some staff and campaigners fighting for improvements to contracts and wages at the company.

New balls, please!

Free footballs are to be given to all new six-a-side teams that enter the winter season in East Finchley in a sponsorship deal arranged by league organisers Soccer-sixes.

Teams play every Monday and Thursday at Christ's College, off East End Road. Eleven-a-side teams are welcome to enter six-a-side groups if they want extra training. Find out more at www.soccersixes.net.

Headscratcher

Bridges

By Oliver Skanberg-Tippen
Connect the islands so that each has the same number of bridges as its number. Bridges may not bend and may not be diagonal. There can be no more than two bridges between any two islands, and bridges must not cross each other or other islands. When solved, it should be possible to use the bridges to travel from any island to any other.
